

Contents

Figures.....	vii	Acknowledgments.....	xvii
Reproducible Forms	ix	Introduction.....	xix
Foreword: Lindee Morgan/Amy M. Wetherby ..	xi	How to Use This Book.....	xix
Preface.....	xiii	Notes on Style.....	xix

Part One: The Nature of Autism

1. Answers to Commonly Asked Questions ...	1	Asperger's Syndrome—Special Challenges	30
Definitions: A Trip Through the Labeling		Issues Related to Co-occurring Conditions	31
Maze	1	Summary.....	32
Commonly Asked Questions	4	3. Effects of Autism Spectrum Disorders
Summary.....	14	on Language, Communication, and
2. Learning Style of Individuals With		Social Development	35
Autism Spectrum Disorders	17	Perspective Points.....	35
Perspective Points.....	17	Typical Development.....	35
The Brain as a Computer—An Analogy.....	18	Developmental Differences in Autism.....	37
Effects of the Autism Learning Style.....	21	Summary.....	46

Part Two: Assessment

4. Parents' Role	49	5. Assessment for Diagnosis and
Perspective Points.....	49	Educational Program Development.....	61
Preparing for the Marathon.....	49	Perspective Points.....	61
Evaluating the Mass of Information.....	50	Standardized Testing	61
Parents as Advocates	51	Functional Assessment to Determine Goals
Parent/Professional Relationships	53	and Strategies	67
Accessing Educational Services.....	54	Summary.....	74
Summary.....	56
David's Story.....	57

Part Three: Making Program Decisions

6. Placement and Support Decisions	77	Raising Expectations: Emily and
Perspective Points.....	77	DJ Savarese	90
The Elements of an Effective Program	77	7. Develop a Balanced Program.....	93
Making Decisions.....	79	Perspective Points.....	93
The Support Team	81	Develop the IEP	93
Staffing	84	Develop the Daily Plan	98
Related Services	85	Contexts for Instruction	99
Support to Address the Challenges		Monitor Progress	100
of Asperger's Syndrome.....	87	Classroom Management	101
Program Decisions.....	88	Summary.....	101
Summary.....	90

Part Four: Interventions

8. Understanding Stress and Behavior 103 Perspective Points 103 Understanding Behavior 103 Interpreting the Behavioral Message 106 Situations Typically Associated With Problems 109 Three Basic Intervention Processes 112 Summary 121 9. Assess and Plan Interventions for Severe Behavior Problems 123 Perspective Points 123 The Functional Behavioral Assessment 123 Intervention Planning—A Positive, Proactive Behavior Support Plan 129 Summary 134 10. Organize and Structure Space 137 Perspective Points 137 Problems With Space 137 The Process for Organizing Space 138 Summary 144 11. Organize and Structure Events in Time 147 Perspective Points 147 Terminology 147 Scheduling Principles 148	The Process 148 Summary 153 12. Organize and Structure Events as Routines 155 Perspective Points 155 Organize Events as Routines 155 The Process for Organizing Events 157 Summary 160 13. Organize and Structure Visual Support Systems 161 Perspective Points 161 Design and Construction of Visual Systems 161 Visual Systems and Strategies 168 Summary 186 Visual Supports Are Helpful in Classrooms and at Home 186 14. Organize and Structure Verbal Information 191 Perspective Points 191 Basic Guidelines 191 Principles for Organizing Verbal Information 192 Summary 202
--	---

Part Five: Teaching New Skills

15. Critical Instructional Strategies 203 Perspective Points: Historical 203 The Foundation—How Do We Learn? 203 The Controversy—What Is the Best Approach? 205 An Integrated Intervention Planning Process 205 Perspective Points: Current 207 An Analogy for Planning 208 The Basic Behavioral Sequence 208 Terminology and Guidelines 210 Summary 226 16. Establish the Foundation for Emotional, Communication, and Cognitive Skills . . . 229 Perspective Points 229 Cognitive Development—Defining the Problem 229 Models for Establishing the Foundation 229 Structured Play-Based Strategies 232 Summary 240	17. Teach Functional Routines 243 Perspective Points 243 Work Routines and Work Systems 243 The Instructional Plan 246 Provide Instruction 255 Expanded Applications 257 Summary 259 The Miller Brothers 260 18. Concepts, Rules, and Academic Skills . . . 263 Perspective Points 263 Naturalistic/Incidental Teaching Strategies . . . 264 Direct Instruction Teaching Strategies 266 Summary 281 19. Expand Communication Skills and Options 285 Perspective Points 285 Systematic Expansion 285 Unique Communication Challenges in ASD 287
--	--

Developing and Expanding a Primary Communication System	294	Strategies for Teaching Self-Awareness and Self-Management Skills	331
Guidelines for Teaching Alternative Systems	296	Target Self-Monitoring and Self-Control	333
Four AAC Options	299	Other Self-Control and Self-Management Models and Strategies	344
Summary—Considerations for Interpreters . .	307	Summary.	346
Finnegan’s Story	308	Resources.	346
20. Expand Communication and Social Competence	313	22. Managing Specific Challenges	349
Perspective Points.	313	Perspective Points.	349
Social Problem Solving	313	Safety Issues	350
Guidelines for Planning Group Instruction and Practice	316	Manage Medical Care.	351
Integrated Play Groups	318	Eating Problems	353
Social Skills Groups	319	Sleeping Problems	357
Social Support Groups.	322	Toilet Training.	359
Individual Support Sessions	324	Social and Sexual Issues	363
Summary.	327	Involvement With the Law	367
Resources for Planning	327	Managing Major Life Transitions	368
21. Teach Awareness of Self and Others	331	Summary.	371
Perspective Points.	331	In Conclusion—Understanding the Challenges and the Gifts.	371
		Resources.	372
Glossary.	375	Index.	383
About the Authors	381		